

ESRA In-School is one of ESRA's English tutoring programs facilitating the work of the English teacher and promoting students' English language academic achievements.

Volunteers nationwide help students improve in their English studies, through one-on-one tutoring, or in small groups, during English class hours and under the guidance of the English teacher.

The volunteer tutors working within this ESRA program are immigrants from English-speaking countries, either newcomers to Israel or veteran Israelis. They have all received the ESRA program training and professional guidance.
